

How does BioMat Therapy Work?

- Reduces pain by turning off pain receptors
- Relieves nervous tension and reduces muscle spasms by gently heating and relaxing muscle fibers using far-infrared rays enhanced by amethyst
- Expands capillaries, stimulating increased blood flow and circulation
- Promotes the rebuilding of injured tissue by having a positive effect on the fibroblasts (connective tissue cells necessary for repair)
- Assists the natural inflammatory process by ridding the body of non-degradable toxins / pathogens and restoring a productive immune response
- Increases the growth of cells, DNA and protein synthesis necessary during tissue repair and regeneration
- Speeds cellular metabolic rates by stimulating the activity of mitochondria, triggering enzyme activity and thus promoting the killing of many pathogens: bacteria, viruses, fungi and parasites
- Strengthens the immune system by stimulating increased production of white blood cells (leukocytes), killer T-cells and lowering blood cortisol levels
- Strengthens the cardiovascular system by causing heart rate and cardiac output increases as well as diastolic blood pressure decreases
- Negative Ions help to alkalize and purify blood, charge the immune system and neutralize free radicals

Why BioMat over other Far-Infrared Ray Therapy methods?

- BioMat is an approved FDA medical device - safe for medically frail patients.
- BioMat draws little electricity and does not emit harmful EMF.
- BioMat can be used in a bed, on a couch, or on a chair and does not require a dedicated space or special training.
- BioMat amplifies the affects of Far Infrared Rays with negative ions and amethyst for deeper relaxation and much greater restorative effects than a sauna.
- BioMat is safer, more comfortable and more effective than a sauna since the body can be heated to a much higher temperature safely and more comfortably.
- BioMat stimulates the body's immune system, shuts the mind down, and brings the nervous system into a parasympathetic or meditative state.

Katrina Koller 612-618-7724 kk@bodyinbalancemn.com

www.bodyinbalancemn.com